Flexible Rods

Designed for sweeping insulated metal chimneys and flexible flue liners

Key features

Affordable flexible rods made by us in Britain using flexible 12mm diameter rod for added strength and durability. Our superflexy 8mm nylon rods are ideal for sweeping tight 90° bends, and can also be used as a 'lead' rod with flexible 12mm rods.

High quality solid brass screw ends with ½" Whitworth screw fitting featuring chamfered edges to minimise risk of damaging flexible liners.

Available in metric or imperial lengths.

Meeco's Red Devil

Fire Safety and Maintenance Products

MEECO have appointed Rodstation as the exclusive distributors for the UK and Europe for their range of proven products aimed at reducing and stopping chimney fires.

Founded in 1937, MEECO are well known in the USA for manufacturing a wide range of safety and maintenance products for wood and solid fuel burning. They have built a reputation for high quality and service. Originally the United States Department of Natural Resources contracted them to develop a product for the removal of soot from wood-burning generators and power plants, which they then launched under the MEECO's Red Devil trademark.

FireEx

The MEECO FireEx is quick and easy to use. At the first sign of a chimney fire simply toss into the firebox and the chimney fire stops within minutes. The FireEX is not a flare and works without any pre ignition. The FireEx has been performance tested using creosote-fuelled chimney fires and will not cause any water damage. Suitable for use on Stoves, Fireplace Inserts and Fireplaces.

Watch a video demonstration of the FireEx in action on Rodstation's YouTube Channel.

Powdered Creosote Destroyer

This Powdered Creosote Destroyer is specially formulated to control creosote build-up in wood and coal stoves, when it is put on a fire. It works as a catalyst destroying the binder holding the creosote particles together. Regular removal of creosote build-up can help to prevent chimney fires.

Creosote Control Firebrick

This is designed to control creosote build-up in wood and coal stoves, fireplace inserts and pellet stoves. The firebrick is made from 100% natural sawdust containing no waxes or oils. To use simply add one brick to an active fire. A pack of 4 bricks will provide 60 days of treatment and help to prevent chimney fires.

It is a legal requirement that the installation of a chimney, flue lining and/or a combustion appliance complies with the Building Regulations. Approved Document J 2010 explains the requirement for England and Wales.

Chimney Notice Plates

The requirement to provide a Notice plate is described in the following extract from ADJ 2010.

"1.57 Where a hearth, fireplace, (including a flue box), flue or chimney is provided or extended (including cases where a flue is provided as part of the refurbishment work), information essential to the correct application and use of these facilities should be permanently posted in the building. A way of meeting this requirement would be to provide a notice plate as shown in Diagram 16 conveying the following information.

Data plate includes the required details and is made from metal to comply with the requirement for a durable plate to be used. It is 110mm x 110mm and has a matt aluminium finish for writing in the details with a permanent marker pen.

The installer is considered to be responsible for providing the completed notice plate and fixing it next to the chimney or hearth described; or next to the water supply stop-cock or electricity consumer unit.

RRP £3.95 inc Vat

Chimney Notice Plate x 1	ACNP01	£3.25	£3.95

CO Alarms

Requirements to fit CO Alarms

When installing a solid fuel or wood burning stove it is a legal requirement to fit a carbon monoxide alarm in the same room. This is a new requirement in the 2010 ADJ, which says:

2.36 The carbon monoxide alarm should be located in the same room as the appliance:

- on the ceiling at least 300mm from any wall or, if it is located on a wall, as high up as possible (above any doors and windows) but not within 150mm of the ceiling; and*
- between 1m and 3m horizontally of the appliance.*

We stock and sell the Honeywell XC70 alarm that has a 7 year warranty and battery life. It is certified to BS EN 50291 and listed by HETAS. The slim line unit is easily fitted using 2 plugs & screws.

RRP £24.95 inc Vat
